The International Academy of Design & Technology in Chicago was founded in 1977 as a postsecondary institution focusing on merchandising and design. Over 25 years later, the Academy continues to respond to changes brought by technology through an expansion of its curriculum offerings and campus locations in order to meet the needs of the design and technology industries. The Sacramento campus was established in 2007 to bring these programs to the residents of California.

We are seeking employers interested in both student internships and employment opportunities. If you are interested in partnering, please call us TODAY at 916-830-3305 or email: adickson@iadtsacramento.com to learn how our students can take your organization to the next level!
